Numb. 724.

THE So-Carolina GAZETTE.

Containing the freshest Advices, Foreign and Domestick.

From MONDAY February 22d, to MONDAY February 29th, 1748.

HAGUE, October 10.

THE following is a Copy of the preliminary Articles, upon which, it's said, the Court of France will enter into a Negociation for re-establishing Peace.

1st Article. The Crown of France will cause all Hostilities, direct and indirect, against the Republick of the United Provinces to cease, upon Condition, at the same Time, that the Courts of Vienna, London and Turin, will cause all Hostilities to cease against the Republick of Genoa.

2. The Crown will restore Bergen-op-Zoom to the Dutch, together with Sluys, Hulst, Sas de Gant, and in short all the Places and Forts conquered during the last Campaign as well in Dutch Flanders as in Dutch Brabant, upon Condition that the Court of Vienna and its Allies will restore to the Duke of Modena his Territories, and to the Republick of Genoa the Fortresses of Gavi, Novi, Savona, Final, &c. in a Word all the Places that belonged to that Republick before the present War.

3. The Republicks of Genoa and of the United Provinces shall be re-established in a perfect Liberty of Commerce, without being liable, under any Pretext whatsoever, to have their Ships seized, interrupted, and much less burnt or confiscated, or the Ships bound to their Ports seized or disturbed, under Pretence that they come from the Ports of France or Spain, or those going there.

4. The Crown of France will consent to the Revision and Exchange of the Dutch Prisoners in France, and Commissaries shall be appointed on each Side in order to renew the Commerce between France and the Republick of the United Provinces.

5. Every Thing shall be re-established between the English and Spaniards, in the East and West-Indies, upon the same Footing that they were before the present War, and as they were regulated by the Treaty of Aix la Chapelle.

6. But if the English should insist upon a greater Extent of Trade in the West-Indies than they were in the Year 1739, in consequence of the Treaty of Utrecht, this Article shall be explained in such Manner as that the Crown of Spain shall be indemnified in Europe for such it may make or suffer

7. The Pretensions of the Crown of Spain upon the Succession of the Emperor Charles VI. transferr'd to Don Philip by the Kings Philip his Father, and Ferdinando his Brother, shall be extinguished by the Establishment of Don Philip in the Grand Dutchy of Tuscany, in Exchange for which the House of Lorrain shall have the Dutchies of Milan and Parma, or by an Establishment of the Head of that Family in the Low-Countries, upon Condition of certain Indemnifications, which shall be regulated by the definitive Treaty.

8. In order to supply the Inexecution of the Treaty of Worms, there shall be yielded to his Sardinian Majesty, besides the Vigevanasque, another Enlargement of his Dominions, by adding some Districts thereto out of the Dutchy of Milan, which will best suit him, and he shall be re-established in the preliminary Possession of the Dutchy of Savoy.

9. The Republick of Genoa shall be indemnified, by renuiting to its Territory the Principality of Oneilia, part of Montferrat, which is between that State and the Bormida, from the farthest Source of that River to Alexandria, and the Fortress of Tortona and its Territory, the territorial Superiority of the Imperial Fiefs in the Langhrana, as well as of the City of Pontremoli and its District, and some other Territories proper to form a Barrier for it, and to put the Capital of that Republick in Security. In Consideration whereof it shall renounce all Claims of pecuniary Indemnification, shall continue the Freedom of its Port, and shall engage to remit, in a short Space of Time, the Sums taken from the Bank of St. George for the Reimbursement and Security of the Persons possess'd of its Obligations.

10. As to the perpetual Neutrality of the Low-Countries, and to the Restitution and Indemnifications, to be regulated in Favour of the Powers in War, whether Allies, Auxiliaries or Neuters, all shall be referred to the definitive Treaty of general Pacification.

11. If the above Propositions should meet with no capital Difficulty, a Suspension of Arms will be agreed upon for a Year, and the City of Aix la Chapelle will be pitched upon for the Place of Congress, &c.

The Letters from Frankfort, wch of which these Articles were taken, add, that none of the heads they are calculated to provide for the Advantage and Security of the Republick of the United Provinces, can be refused by it, without pretending to require the Crown of France and Spain to abandon their Allies to the Mercy of their Enemies, whilst they shall at the same Time have the Complaisance to re-establish the Allies of their Enemies in the preliminary Possession of their Domains: Pretensions too daring and injurious to make to crowned Heads, and which no Body can flatter themselves will have any Regard paid to them.

Hague, Oct. 17. The following are some Remarks and Observations that were annex'd to the Propositions of Peace made by the French Court, lately inserted in this Paper, viz. 'We do not enter into the Examination whether the Republick of the United Provinces and that of the Genoese ought to have been attack'd in an hostile Manner, as they never pretended to act but as Auxiliaries, and without renouncing a Neutrality. Whether the Petensions of the Court of Madrid upon some Parts of the Succession of Charles VI. or the English upon the Liberty of trading in all the Seas of America, are well or ill founded. Whether the Demand of the Indemnification already formed, or which may hereafter be formed, by the principal Powers in War, or Auxiliaries, is just or unjust; because the Discussions of Right may be drawn to an infinite Length, and the War will never be finished, if an End be not put to it before Disputes of this Nature be determined. The Business is to consider upon what Footing Things now actually are, and to prevent them, if possible, from growing worse, by agreeing upon some preliminary Articles which may be proper to produce a general Regulation. Discussions about Right are never made without Sourness, Passion, and Invectives, which have rather a Tendency to widen the Breach between the contending Parties, than to close and heal it. As the Design of the Crown of France is to cut Matters short, in respect to what is past, and to go directly upon the Faces which may facilitate Negociations, and re-establish Peace, the King, in order to give an undeniable Proof of his pacifick Inclination, has been pleased in the Midst of the Prosperity of his Arms to communicate his Intention to the Allies, by charging the Marquiss de Puysieux to lay before them the Articles or Propositions above-mentioned. To give a farther Proof of the King's sincere Desire for Peace, he is pleased to declare, that as a large Quantity of Artillery have fallen into his Hands this last Campain, by the rapid Conquests which his Armies have already made upon the Dutch, without reckoning what more will be taken this Winter, if the Propositions of his Majesty should be rejected, or that a Neutrality be refused, the King will, it's assured, consent to the Restitution not only of all the Artillery which has been taken in the strong Places of Dutch Flanders and Dutch-Brabant but likewise of that which was found in Ypres, Menin, Tournay, and other conquer'd Places, mark'd with the Arms of the Republick, provided only that the States General will embrace the Party of the Neutrality; that otherwise the said Artillery should not be restored or exchanged till a general Peace, no more than that taken from the English.

WHEREAS the Co-partnership of Nicklefon, Shubrick, and Comp. expir'd the 19th of Jan. last, and as two of the Partners reside now in London, makes it absolutely necessary to get in their Effects: This is to desire all indebted to them, by Bond, Note or Book-Debts, to discharge the same by the 25th Day of March next, and those in whose Power 'tis not to comply to give satisfactory Security. As Advertisements of this Nature often repeated makes them less regarded, and our Lenity hitherto has been very extraordinary, so must declare this first will be the last; and after the above Time all outstanding Debts will be put into a Lawyer's Hands, for the more speedy Recovery. What Goods they have (being lately imported) will be sold on very reasonable Terms.
